

Richmond based painter Kathy Calhoun is honored to have received several awards and recognitions both as a teacher and a painter. Her work is in private and corporate collections in several states and Europe. When not at her easel, Kathy can be found teaching either watercolor and drawing outreach workshops at the Visual Arts Center or design foundations at John Tyler Community College. Finding a vibrant balance between discipline/technique and creativity/vision is her inspiration both in the studio and the classroom.

To follow the progress of Kathy's on-going work, please click on the side bar to the left or visit her blog...

Art by Clu: Paintings and Illustrations by Kathy Calhoun

<http://cluwatermedia.blogspot.com>